THIRD CONCERT 1951-52 Season

ANN AYARS

Lyric Soprano

Monday, January 21 - 8:30 P.M. - Research Staff Lounge

The BERA Concert Group will present Ann Ayars, soprano, in a concert Monday, January 21. Miss Ayars, who has had five seasons with the New York City Opera, was described by Life magazine as - "one of the comeliest girls in the company, a former Hollywood starlet who left MGM to join the City Opera." Her singing, which more than matches her dark beauty and acting ability, has won her a wide reputation in operatic circles. She has sung at the Edinburgh Music Festival and has been the leading soprano at the Glyndebourne Opera Festival in England for two seasons.

In this country Miss Ayars has starred in City Opera productions of La Traviata, Carmen, La Boheme, Don Giovanni, Pagliacci, and Tales of Hoffman. Noel Straus of the New York Times has described her as - "a richly gifted singer who gives a brilliant performance."

Currently, Miss Ayars is starring in the English-made technicolor production "Tales of Hoffman," a movie which has not yet reached local theaters. In this she not only plays and sings the role of Antonia but her voice is dubbed into several of the other soprano parts.

Miss Ayars' program promises to be varied and interesting. It will be as follows:
